LEGISLATIVE BRANCH

LEGISLATIVE FOREWORD

The Legislative branch of state government drafts and passes the laws providing for the well-being, growth and development of the state, and for the protection of her citizens.

The Wyoming State Legislature consists of 30 State Senators and 64 State Representatives. The term of office for the Senators is four years, 15 of the members being elected at a general election at which a President of the United States is elected, the balance at an off-year election. The entire body of the House of Representatives is elected every two years to serve a two-year term. Terms begin on the first Monday in January following election.

The 1981 reapportionment of the State Legislature provides for a total of 30 State Senators and 64 State Representatives. See page 133 for breakdown.

The general legislative session convenes on the second Tuesday of January of the odd-numbered years and shall not exceed 40 legislative working days. In 1972, voters in Wyoming approved an amendment to the Wyoming Constitution which permitted an additional twenty-day session of the Wyoming Legislature in even-numbered years for the consideration of the State's budget. The budget session convenes on the third Monday of February of the even-numbered years and shall not exceed 20 legislative working days.

The present Legislature has a Republican majority in both bodies; 19 Republicans to 11 Democrats in the Senate; and 46 Republicans to 18 Democrats in the House.

In 1985 there are two women serving in the Senate and 22 women in the House of Representatives.

The general legislative session of the 48th Legislature convened on January 8, 1985, and adjourned on February 23, 1985.

The budget session of the 48th Legislature will convene on February 17, 1986.
